

I am actually fearful of the behavior of media giants like Sinclair Broadcasting. Their actions and overtly biased programming practices are precisely the reasons why their ownership of large portions of the media need desperately to be limited. I am disappointed with the FCC for not doing so and have lost faith that the FCC is genuinely concerned with the best interests of the general public.

The latest outrage is the decision to air a deliberately damaging documentary of John Kerry shortly before the November elections. This type of self serving and blatantly biased activity is something that should be punished by a public regulatory agency entrusted with the well being of american citizens.

Freedom from thought control is at stake. Please do the right thing and limit the ownership of our sources of information by those who would use it for ill or controlling purposes.

Thank you.
